PREFATORY.

Our object in the compilation of the present work, was to give a reflex of Omaha, her past, present, and prospective advantages. Whether, or not, we have succeeded in producing such a Book, we leave impartial critic, and the "oldest inhabitant" to determine. If a thorough canvass,—a wish to embody in these pages such information as we thought necessary, in order to have our book worthy of us, and its name; if these are the standards by which we are to be judged, we are satisfied—you will do us justice. We promised you a "DIRECTORY"—a perusal of the following pages will satisfy you, whether, or not, we have kept our word.

HISTORICAL.

Nebraska was organized as a Territory of the United States on the 4th day of May, 1854. Previous to this time its sole occupants, (with the exception of the Indian Traders,) were the various Indian tribes that claimed this country as their own. As early as 1803, there were trading posts established at several of the most prominent points, both above and below here. The venerable Joseph Robidoux, (of St. Joseph,) Baptiste Roe, Emmanuel Lisa, and Pierre Choteau, Jr., were the first regular traders amongst the Indians. Nebraska received the first impetus of emigration in 1855, and from that time to 1860, a flood of emigration passed into and through the Territory, unparralled by any other State or Territory in the Union. A large proportion of the California, and nearly all of the Colorado, Utah, and latterly the Idaho, Montana, and Wyoming emigration, start from Omaha, passing up the valley of the Platte, which always affords good pasturage for their stock.

Nebraska is bounded North by Dakotah ; South by Kansas ; East by Iowa and Missouri, the Missouri River being the dividing line ; and West by Colorado and the new territory of Wyoming. The population in 1854, was 2,732 ; in 1855, 4,565 ; in 1860, 28,903, and its estimated population at the present time is 50,000. The population is mostly in a tier of settled Counties fronting on the Missouri River, from Kansas to the Niobrarah, a distance, North and South, of about 200 miles : and in another tier along the Platte, from its mouth 300 miles westward, by the course of the river. The interior counties are now being rapidly settled, immediately back of those on the Missouri.

The following forty counties have been established: Buffalo, Butler, Burt, Calhoun, Cass, Cedar, Clay, Cummmings, Dakota, Dawson, Dixon, Dodge, Douglas, Fillmore, Gage, Greene, Hall, Izard, Jefferson Johnson, Jones, Kearney, Lancaster, L'eau-qui-court, Monroe, Merton, Nemaha, Nicholls, Otoe, Pawnee, Platte, Polk, Richardson, Saline, Sarpy, Shorter, Washington, West, Wilson and York.

The seat of Government is at Omaha, (population 5,000.) As the outlet of the Platte Valley, and the crossing point of the river for the North Platte route to Colorado, Utah, Idaho, Montana, Wyoming, California and Oregon, and the business center of Northern Nebraska, Omaha has great commercial promise. The Capitol is built on a commanding eminence and romantic site, it is a good two story brick structure. Nebraska City is the chief town below the Platte. It is on the beautiful site of old Fort Kearney. Among the other principal towns with populations less than 1,000, are Plattsmouth, Brownsville, Covington, Rulo, Peru, Nemaha City, Falls City, Salem, Archer, Kenosha, Rock Bluffs, and Wyoming below the Platte, and above, is Bellevue, the site of the old Omaha Mission, Florence (the starting point, on the Missouri, for a portion of the Mormon trains to Utah), DeSoto, Cumming City, Tekama, Decatur, Omadi, Dakota, St. Johns, Ponca, St. James, St. Helena, above the Platte, on and near the Missouri; Fontanelle, on the Elkhorn, and Fremont, Columbus, and Kearney City in the Platte Valley. The general surface of Nebraska approximates to a vast plain, rising gradually from the Missouri toward the Mountains. The bottoms are level. The prairies (of which the surface mostly consists) are either gently undulating, or broken into low hills and ridges. There are few hills of magnitude, and no mountains except at the West and Northwest, where the land rises into the Black Hills and Rocky Mountain Ranges. No lakes have been discovered, but the rivers and streams are very numerous. The head waters and upper branches of the Missouri, are all in Dakotah and Montana. This great river is navigable nearly to its source, at the foot of the Rocky Mountains. Boats have ascended about 300 miles above Fort Benton. It is used by the Government for transporting supplies, troops and munitions, to the upper forts and to the Pacific coast, and by freighters to Idaho and Montana, carriage being only 500 miles through a pass in the Mountains, to the head of navigation on the Columbia. The only dangers in its navigation, arise from snags, and these are fast disappearing from the increase of travel and the removal of trees along the shores. Among its upper Nebraska affluents, are the Jefferson, Madison and Gallatin forks at its source, Smith river, Marias, Muscle Shoals, Milk river, Big Muddy, Yellowstone, Little Missouri, Cheyenne, White Earth, and Niobrarah. The Niobrarah is remarkable for its rapidity, its changable channels and wide sandy bed, which is cut up into bars and naked isles of sand, always moveable and shifting, it marks the North limit of present settlement, rising at the foot of the Black Hills, near Fort Laramie, it runs nearly due East about 400 miles, and empties near latitude 43. Its valley, leading straight toward Fort Laramie and the South Pass, afford a good and direct military route to these points. The Platte has two forks which rise respectively in the North and South Parks of the Rocky Mountains, and unite near latitude 41, longitude 101. It divides the settled portions of the Territory into two nearly equal sections, its mouth is near latitude 41. Fort Laramie is on the North fork near the Black Hills. Denver City on the South fork, and Fort Kearney on the main stream below the Junction. The Sweet Water, Medicine Bow, and Laramie, all near the Mountains, are tributaries of the North Fork. Cherry Creek, Cache La Poudre, and several other small streams flow into the South Fork toward its source. The Platte is wide, rapid and shallow, full of sand bars, with divided channels and not navigable. The special feature is the unrivalled valley through which it courses, from the Mountains to the Missouri. It is, by the main stream and south fork, about 800 miles long, and by the north fork still longer. The lower portion of the valley has a soil of exhuberant fertility, and generally a width of 8 to 15 miles; it is being rapidly settled. The Wood, Loupe, and Elkhorn rivers, join the Platte on the North side, below Fort Kearney. All have extensive and fertile valleys. The Big Blue and Little Blue flowing Southeast across the line digging wells, which range from Cedar County, on the Missouri, ere is a large deposit, a few feet

reous substance, soft and pliable, which hardens on exposure and makes excellent lime. Alum has been discovered in Dixon County, and coal is found in various points, usually in veins too thin to furnish cheap fuel, but some of them range from two inches to two feet. As no Geological or Scientific explorations have been lately made in the Territory, it is impossible to state its mineral resources, but much is hoped from its location and contiguity to valuable coal and mineral regions. Oil wells have been discovered at Fremont, Elkhorn, and Columbus. On Salt Creek, in Lancaster County, several rich Salt Springs have been discovered. The Salt impregnates the waters of the creek, and in many spots covers the ground with a crust about the thickness of window glass, spreading in one place over an extent of three miles, by one half mile wide. Eastern Nebraska may not be prolific in minerals, but the mountains at the West are a vast storehouse of the precious and useful metals, gold, silver, copper, cinnabar, and others which abound in the Rocky Mountain chain from Central America to the Russian Possessions, have been dug already at the sources of the Platte, and of the Yellowstone in Nebraska.

The agricultural and pastural region between the Missouri and the sandy tract West of it, ranges in width from 100 to 150 miles. Along the Platte it extends about 300 miles from the Missouri. Between latitude forty and forty-three it embraces a tract of some 30,000 square miles without waste lands, equal in soil, productiveness, and ease of tillage, to any tract of the same extent in the Union. It consists of bottom lands, valleys and prairies. The prairie soil is a deep dark vegetable mould, slightly impregnated with lime, it contains but little clay, does not cake after rains, and resists with singular endurance unusual wet or drouth, it is very easily stirred and tilled. The natural roads over it wear down with travel to a smooth hard surface, seldom becoming muddy or dusty, and needing no repairs. The native grass grows in bunches close together, but not forming a very compact sward, it is fine and nutricious—the favorite food of the buffalo and deer—all domestic animals thrive on it. The valley soil is of the same general quality, but deeper and richer, from the continual washings of the uplands. The alluvial soil of the Missouri bottom has a basis of sand, heightened and fertilized by the debris left by the river. The valleys at the base of the Mountains, near the mines, produce good vegetables, but the central, North, and Northwest parts of the Territory, still unsettled, have but very little arable land. Mauvaises Terres, or bad lands, are peculiar and strikingly desolate. The valley so named lies East of the Black Hills, is about thirty by ninety miles in extent, sunk abruptly away from its prairie surroundings, with almost vertical sides and about 300 feet deep in its lowest part. It is filled with innumerable pinnacles, columns, and irregular masses of earth and rock, separated by labyrinthine passages nearly destitute of vegetation, bare and sterile, but rich in fossils, geological treasures and organic relics of extinct animals and races.

Throughout the fertile region above described, wheat, corn, oats, and other cereals, sorghum, root crops, and all culinary vegetables give a large yield. Sweet potatoes are raised below latitude 42, and may succeed above. The native fruits are plums, grapes, raspberries, strawberries, gooseberries, and others, the first two are found in great quantities, and are of a fine quality. The winters are too severe for peaches. The soil and climate are suitable for tobacco, but this has not been cultivated to any extent. The prairies furnish a boundless pasture ground, and the grass of the valleys and low spots makes excellent hay. The altitude of the country being considerably greater than that of the Mississippi Valley, secures to it a dry, pure salubrious atmosphere, free from fogs and humidity.

The prevalent diseases are mostly malarious, and become less frequent as cultivation is extended. The climate is remarkable for the number of bright, sunny days, throughout the year. Rain is abundant in spring and fall, the summer and autumn being comparatively dry. The extreme of heat is 100°. This is tempered by the prairie breezes, and the nights are always cool. The winters are usually mild and open, with little snow. The extreme of cold is from 10° to 15° below zero, in moderate winters, and from 20° to 30° below in the severe ones. High winds prevail in the spring, and at times throughout the year, sweeping unobstructed over the open plains.

The population is from the various States, with a large mixture of the foreign element. The Germans and Irish congregate in the larger towns, and make up several farming settlements. A bill to prohibit slavery was passed by the Legislature, in 1861, over the Governor's veto. The Indian tribes were almost the sole inhabitants when the territory was organized. The Omahas about 900 in number, have a reserve just above latitude 42 on the Missouri, their annuity is $10,000. The Pawnees' reserve is on the Loupe, they number about 4,000 and receive an annuity of $40,000.

The Otoes is next to the Kansas line, on the Big Blue. Their number is from 700 to 800, and their annuity is $13,000. Above the Niobrarah the Poncas have an annuity of $12,000, and the Sioux of $65,000. The N., N. W. and W. parts of the territory contain many wild tribes. The Omahas have a mission and schools among them. Military posts are maintained among and near them at Forts Kearney and Laramie on the Platte, and Forts Union, Randall and Benton on the Missouri. Agricultural and pastoral pursuits will chiefly engage the people of Nebraska. The scarcity of fuel and of good water power will limit manufacturing. The trafic on the Missouri is already large and will be immense. The gold discoveries in Western Kansas, Colorado and Idaho has given a great and sudden impetus to the commerce of the plains across these territories. Nebraska has its full share. Three routes starting from Omaha, Plattsmouth and Nebraska City, unite at Fort Kearney and thence follow the Platte valley to Denver and the Rocky Mountains. On all the roads excellent wood and water is convenient, and the distance less than by more southern routes. New routes have been opened greatly shortening the distance to the new gold fields of Montana and Idaho, which are referred to more in detail in another part of the work.

*The Western Telegraph is constructed along the Missouri, up to Omaha, and thence west along the Platte to Fort Kearney, Denver City, and thence through Nevada Territory to San Francisco, California. Steam ferries are maintained across the Missouri at Omaha, Dakota, Bellevue, Plattsmouth, Nebraska City and Brownsville.

The school system is modeled on the same plan as that of Ohio. There are land offices at Nebraska City, Omaha, and Dakota, at which millions of acres are subject to entry. The civil code of Ohio and the criminal code of Illinois were adopted with few modifications in 1858. There are several newspapers published in the Territory. The "Omaha Daily Herald" being the leading Democratic, and the "Omaha Daily Republican" the leading Republican paper of the Territory. Most of the religious denominations of the United States are represented. The organic act is very similar to that of other Territories. Nebraska is a part of the Louisiana purchase, from which Missouri, Arkansas, Iowa, Minnesota, and the other new Territories West were successively carved out, leaving an unpeopled Indian country west of Missouri and Iowa, which was finally organized May 30th, 1854, by the Kansas-Nebraska act, Kansas having since become a State. Emigration to both Territories began at once, but Nebraska wholly escaped the political war which convulsed Kansas and excited the country. The emigration was rapid and constant until the revulsion of 1857, which checked it, but from which it has now wholly recovered. During the prosperous interval every interest seemed to thrive. Towns were built in a summer; lots and claims rose to fabulous prices; labor was in extraordinary demand, and the prairies were mapped into town plots. Since then the course of affairs has changed. Farms have multiplied and the mechanic arts flourish. Trade has become steady, and legitimate and real wealth has greatly increased. Lands of the finest quality, within twenty miles of Omaha, can be preempted at Government rates.

Nebraska being a fine agricultural and stock-raising country, and also being the great starting-point and highway for travel over the Plains, her lands are much sought after by emigrants. Fine lands can be taken under the Homestead Law in the immediate neighborhood of good settlements, where the settler will have all the advantages of churchs and schools already established. Improved farms can be purchased, say in tracts of 100 acres, with from 40 to 80 acres under cultivation, with small dwelling and outbuildings, for from $5 to $25 per acre. As a general rule, farms can be bought at less than the cost of the improvements, owing to the constant emigration to the adjacent gold mines of Colorado, Idaho and Montana.

The Territory has adopted a liberal free school system, which will furnish a free school in a short time the year round in every school district. At the present time the schools are open on an average about six months in the year.

Timber and stone are everywhere to be found in sufficient quantities for building purposes. Stone coal has been discovered in several places.

The Great Union and Pacific Railroad extends through the center of the Territory, up the Platte valley, which winds its way across the whole Territory from east to west, and which has long since become the great highway to the Pacific. On this route one of the finest wagon roads in the world exists, which furnishes ready means of communication between the river towns and the interior at all seasons of the year. The length of post routes within the Territory is 1,872 miles.

"There are 1,500,000 acres of Government lands subject to be entered under the Homestead Law, to be located with land warrants or cash in the Omaha district. These lands lie in the most fertile regions of Nebraska, being in the great valley of the Platte and along the Elkhorn river, Shell Creek, Loupe Fork, and Wood river. The names of the counties in which these lands lie, are as follows: Douglass, Washington, Dodge, Platte, Monroe, Madison, Izard, Cumming, Burt, Dakota, Dixon, Pierce, L'eau-qui-Court, and Archer. All information required can be had by addressing the General Land Agent, Omaha, Nebraska, or J. M. Clarke, Land Agent

"A great tide of immigration is pouring into Nebraska. Trains of immigrants are bringing thousands within its borders. It is expected that within the next year many thousands will find new homes in this beautiful and fertile Territory. Nebraska needs labor to turn its virgin soil. Let Eastern people recall the fertile valleys of their own States,—remember how rich they are, and teeming with wealth and population; then remember that much of that wealth and those people, with their fine farms and cities, and all the arts of civilization and sciuce, are the fruits of the last half century. Then let them consider this great region of Nebraska, ank think what it will be in a few years, when these are cultivated; how they will grow in value, and towns and cities stand where to this day the soil has been untouched by the husbandman.

The Great Pacific Railway will enrich the farmer; churches, schools, and manufactures will flourish here. The capacity of sustaining a great population cheaply, will bring the emigrant from the old world as well as the population inhabiting the Atlantic States."

The total assessed value of property for 1866, is $20,000,000 which at the present ratio of increase will be more than doubled within the next three years.

Omaha, Douglas County.

Omaha, the county-seat of Douglas county, and the capital of Nebraska Territory, is situated on the west side of the Missouri River. The city is located on a high level plateau, 40 feet above the highest water mark. It might very appropriately be called the half way depot between New York and San Francisco, as it lays on an air line route between these two extreme points of the American Continent. This is the eastern terminus of the Pacific Railroad, which road is now in running order to Columbus, a distance of 85 miles, and the road is already graded, and the iron being laid to Fort Kearney, 195 miles from here at the rate of one mile per day.

Omaha being the the largest and first settled point in Nebraska, we propose to give a brief synopsis of her early history, growth and progress. To A. D. Jones Esq , the first settle, postmaster, lawyer, legislator and merchant of this place, we are indebted for the principal facts, dates and statistics used and alluded to in this article. As the pioneer squatter first post-master, and custodian of the books and papers of the "Ancient Nebraskians," he has gathered and placed at our disposal a vast amount of historical and miscellaneous matter, which has been freely used in the compilation of this work. The city derived its name from a tribe of Indians that were formerly the owners of the soil. In November 1853, Mr. Jones crossed the river from the Iowa side, and squatted or made a claim on what is now the principal part of the city. He gave his claim the name of "Park Wilde," from the fact of its having a beautiful grove of timber. The Indians at this time not having ceded their claim to the Government, they became jealous of the inroads attempted to be made on their land by the pioneer, and having laid their grievances before the U. S. Indian Agent, Mr Hefner, he notified Mr. Jones that as the land had not been purchased by the Government from the Indians, he would have to leave. Being determined to remain. Mr. J. made application for the position of postmaster. Receiving his commission he erected, and on the 28th of May moved into his post office building. It is related of him that he generally carried his delivery mail in his hat, post office boxes at that time not having come into use.

In 1854 the Indians disposed of their title to the lands in this vicinity. The natural advantages of this point becoming known, a stream of immigration poured in, and soon all of the surrounding country was staked off by claimants. A. D. Jones, W. Snowden, W. Rogers, W. Wight, C. Reeves, —— Gaylord, M. Johnson, were the first actual residents.

The Government not providing the settlers with any officials to carry out the the laws, the settlers formed themselves into what is known in the West as the "Squatters or Claim Association," its objects being for mutual protection, and the carrying out of the law. In 1854, the Council Bluffs and Nebraska Ferry Company erected the first Claim House. It was known as the "St. Nicholas" This was the headquarters and rendezvous of the old settlers. Here they met, discussed, and enacted laws for their future government. About this time, the then embryo city received its name of "Omaha." To Mr. Johnson of the Council Bluffs Bugle, belongs the honor of originating and giving it that name. In 1853, "Old Bill Brown," as he was then termed, started a ferry at this point, and obtained a charter from the County Commissioners, giving him exclusive ferry privileges. Through the instrumentality of A. D. Jones, a ferry company was organized, called the "Council Bluffs and Nebraska Ferry Company. Old Bill Brown sold out six eighths of his privilege under his original charter. The new company immediately purchased a steam ferry boat, called the "Marian," and before there was scarcely a habitation in Omaha, its shrill whistle could be heard for miles around.

The first brick building erected in Omaha, was built and owned by John Davis. It was located west of Child & Cos. Soap factory. The first religious services were held in a house owned by Allen Davis, by a Methodist preacher in 1854, and the first ball and dance, was held in a log house built by William Snowden, and situated near Jackson street, A. D. Jones and Wm. Snowden opening the dance.

The first number of the first newspaper published here, appeared in July, 1854. It was edited and published by J. Patterson, and printed at the Bugle office Council Bluffs. It had no political complexion. The next paper started was the Nebraskian, and was "Democratic." It was started in 1854, and published by Strickland & Sherman; and the first number of the paper was distributed amongst the members of the Territorial Council.

The first Territorial election was in December, 1854. The treaty with the Indians for the sale of the lands, including the present site of Omaha, was made in 1854, and ratified by Congress in April, '55. In 1854, the Council Bluffs and Nebraska Ferry Company purchased the present site of the city, and employed A. D Jones to survey the ground, and lay it off in lots. To his good judgment belongs the credit of Omaha having such roomy streets, they all being 100 feet wide, with the exception of Nebraska and Capital Avenue, they being 120 feet wide. The lots are all 66 feet wide, by 132 feet deep. Lots on the business streets have since been subdivided.

When the question of the location of the capital came before the people, desperate attempts were made by every point in the Territory that claimed a few settlers, to have it located at their favorite place; but the central location and decided advantages of Omaha were potent arguments in her favor, and prevailed, to the great chagrin of would-be rival cities.

The first Legislature of Nebraska held its first session here in 1854. For the information of the antiquary, we subjoin a list of the members and Territorial officers. Many of the gentlemen whose names appear on it are yet citizens among us, some of whom have attained a name and a reputation of which their fellow citizens are justly proud. we give the list as a matter of curious interest to our readers, who will like to mark in it the names of those who have made their mark amongst us:

Council.—A. D. Jones, Speaker, Omaha; J. L. Sharp, — Archer, H. Bradford, H. P. Bennett C. H. Cowles, Nebraska City; T. G. Goodwill, O. D. Richardson, S. E. Rogers, Omaha; R. Brown, Brownville; M. H. Clark, Fontanelle; B. R. Folsom, Tekamah; L. Nuckolls, Plattsmouth; J. C. Mitchell, Florence.

Officers of the Council.—G. L. Miller, Chief Clerk, Omaha; O. F. Lake, Asst. Clerk, Brownville; Frank Welch, Telegraph Operator, Nebraska Centre; N. R. Folsom, Doorkeeper, Tekamah; S. A. Lewis, Sergeant-at-Arms, Omaha.

House of Representatives.—A. J. HANSCOM, Speaker, W. N. Byers, Wm. Clancy, F. Davidson, Thomas Davis, A. D. Goyer, A. J. Poppleton, Robert Whitted, Omaha; G. Bennett, J. H. Cowles, J. H. Decker, W. B. Hail, Wm. Maddox, Nebraska City; W. A. Finney, J. M. Wood, Brownville; A. Arnold, Fort Calhoun; E. R. Doyle, Wm. A. Richardson, Fontanelle; D. M. Johnston, J. A. Singleton, —Archer, Wm. Kempton, Rock Bluff; J. M. Latham, Plattsmouth; H. C. Purple, Tekamah; J. B. Robertson, Desoto; A. J. Smith, Florence; J. N. D. Thompson, Kenosha.

Officers of the House.—J. W. Paddock, Chief Clerk, Council Bluffs; G. L. Eayre, Assist. Clerk, Glenwood; S. F. Burtch, Enrolling Clerk, Glenwood; B. B. Thompson, Doorkeeper, Kenosha; J. L. Gibbs, Sergeant-at-Arms, Nebraska City; R. S. Darling, G. Frank, Pages, Omaha; W. D. Gage, Chaplain, Nebraska City.

To note the political complexion of these two houses, as given in the list, we find four Whigs to nine Democrats in the Council, and seven Whigs to eighteen Democrats in the House. Of the thirteen officers of the two houses, eleven were Democrats; pretty much of a jug handle affair. Of occupations, 12 were lawyers, 8 farmers, 6 merchants, 3 physicians, 2 traders, 1 editor, 1 printer, 1 brick mason, 1 joiner, 1 surveyor, 1 railroad man, 1 miller, 1 clerk, 1 telegraph operator.

A large proportion of the members of the Legislature were non-residents, and their right to make laws and legislate for the Territory, was a presumption, and an anomoly only witnessed in newly settled countries. Col. J. L. Sharp, President of the Council, was a resident of Iowa, as were also Dr. M. H. Clark and L. Nuckols; Mr E. R. Doyle resided in North Carolina; W. A. Richardson in Quincy, Illinois; D. W. Johnson, St. Joseph, Mo. The latter obtained his ten days leave of absence from attendance upon the daily sessions to go into Kansas and run for Representative in that Territory, and was only defeated by a close vote. Mr. J. was an ambitious and very accommodating legislator. He wanted as many people as possible to have the benefit of his legislative talents. J. M. Latham and J. D. N. Thompson were both residents of Iowa, and J. B. Robertson, of Ohio.

When it is remembered that those were the days of the bitter Kansas struggle, when slavery was putting forth its mighty effort to plant itself in the new Territories, the interest which these gentlemen manifested in the legislation of Nebraska is accounted for. The same anomaly was witnessed in Kansas on a much larger scale in those days.

The first nine Territorial officers were, Francis Burt, Governor, (died October 18th. 1854); Thomas B. Cuming, Secretary and Acting Governor; Chas. B. Smith, Private Secretary; F. Ferguson, Chief Justice; E. R. Harden, James Bradley, Associate Justices; E. Estabrook, U. S. Attorney; R. R. Doyle, U. S. Marshall. Mark W. Izzard entered upon the duties of Governor Feb. 20, 1855, with James S. Izzard as his private Secretary.

The name of the first white child born in Omaha, or Douglas county, is Miss Margaret Ferry. She was born in October, 1854. Her father, James Ferry, laid the first stone for the foundation of the old State House, now used as offices, by the U. P. Railroad Company.

Mrs, A. D. Jones was the first lady that visited the Nebraska Legislatute. Mr. H. Bradford, then a member of the Council, was so forcibly impressed with the lady's presence, that on the impulse of the moment, and with a poetic inspiration, he dashed off the following impromptu lines:

Though man is called creation's lord,
And proudly steps in lofty style,
The earth was but a desert broad
Till cheered by lovely woman's smile.

So in this hall of stern-faced men,
With passions roused by fierce debate,

The entrance of dear woman's form
Smooths softly down those looks of hate.

In 1856, the advantages of Omaha becoming more generally known, a stream of immigration poured in here unparalleled in the history of Western town building. Buildings were erected by the thousand, and the owners of town lots put such fabulous and exhorbitant prices on their property, that ground on the business streets became more valuable, in their estimation, than Broadway property is in New York. They worked themselves into the belief that Nebraska was the world, and "Omaha its Capital," but the financial crisis of 1857 brought them to their reasons. The territorial banks, with few exceptions went by the board, money became scarce, speculation ceased, and the golden apple that was at one time within their grasp, for the time being was withdrawn from their reach. From 1857 to 1859, immigration stopped, and speculation ceased, property became less than worthless, and despair began to take the place of the former buoyancy, and hopes of the inhabitants. But the clouds that had obscured the sun of their prosperity, a second time cleared away In 1859 the vast gold fields of Colorado became known; again the tide of emigration set in westward, and Omaha's prospects began to brighten. Immigrants and freighters, who had started for the new gold fields from the various points on the Missouri river, to a very great extent returned by the way of Omaha, the valley of the Platte affording excellent feed and pasturage for their stock, the roads being better, and the distance being less from here than any other point on the Missouri river, the heaviest freighters made this their starting point. Our advantages being heralded abroad, the stream of immigration made this their starting point and to day three fourths of all the immigrants, and a larger portion of the freight destined for Colorado, Utah, Idaho, Montana and Wyoming, make this their initial, starting, and outfitting point.

When the Pacific Railroad is completed to Fort Kearney, it will give this city a monopoly of the trade and commerce of the Western Territories, which will silence the pretensions of all would-be rival cities, and place Omaha in the position she is destined to occupy as the distributing depot for the young, undeveloped, but vast Territories west of us. Buildings of all kinds are rented before they are completed There is not a vacant lot on our business streets but will have a building erected on it during the coming summer. A permanent growth has commenced, and is now developing itself unparalleled in western town building. Permanency, luxury, and the comforts of a home are observable on all sides. The towering steeples of our religious institutions indicate the moral character of our citizens; while the interest taken in schools, and the education of our youths, shows a high standard of intelligence.

Here can be found merchants who count their annual sales amongst the millions. The large deposits at our Banks is the best indication of the healthy business of our city. Our bankers buy more gold dust than all other points on the Missouri river combined, and a large proportion of our capitalists and business men own controlling interests in the richest mines of Colorado, Idaho, and Montana. During the coming summer, 200 cottages will be erected, under the superintendency of that progressive spirit, George Francis Train. The lands for 20 miles around are rolling prairie of the best possible description for farming purposes, with a rich soil of from three to ten feet deep, while the valley of the Platte, for a distance of 200 miles, is settled up with thrifty and energetic farmers that make this their market. All kinds of labor are in demand, and command good wages, while capital judiciously invested is rewarded with large dividends.

The Missouri river is to be bridged at this point, which will give direct and uninterrupted communication with Chicago, and other eastern cities lying on an air line route between here and New York. Already there are five railroads which centre at this point, viz: the Platte Country Railroad, which is now finished to Forest City, and will be completed to this point by the 1st of January, 1867. The Iowa division of the Chicago and North-western Railroad is now completed and running daily trains to Boonsboro, and is pushing forward to this point with

One of the above steamers will leave St. Louis so as to form a regular Tri-weekly Packet Line between the two points. These boats afford superior accommodations for passengers, the carrying of stock, and offer superior inducements to the business, and traveling community of the Missouri River. This Company will give strict and careful attention to all through and way business. Packets leave here daily for Sioux City, Fort Randall, Fort Benton, and the gold fields, and the Yellow Stone country, and points on the upper and lower Missouri. Stages, daily and hourly radiate from here to all points East, West, North and South. The Bousman route which starts from here, shortens the distance to Virginia City and other points in Montana and Idaho, about 400 miles, while the route possesses the advantage of an abundance of water and timber, and avoids the desert met with by taking other routes. This city has a future before her which will more than realize the ardent expectations of her most sanguine admirers. A perusal of the following pages will give to outsiders and those seeking homes in the West an idea of our city and what it contains:

Churches.

One of the first things that attracts the eye of the stranger is the number of our Churches. The good taste evinced both in their architectural beauty, and selection of location is noticeable, no matter in what direction we turn, the towering steeples of our different places of worship bespeaks the refinement, liberality, and morality of our people. There are very few cities in the United States which can boast of as many different places of worship—population and age considered—as Omaha; and the same rivalry that evinces itself in the various business enterprises of the city, is making itself felt in religious circles. There are now in contemplation, and in course of erection, and being enlarged, five Churches. This speaks volumes for a city, where, ten years ago, had scarcely a white man's habitation.

The first religious services held in this city, and first sermon preached, was in the house of Alexander Davis, the preacher's name was Rev. — Cooper, of the Methodist Church. The first Methodist Episcopal Conference of Kansas and Nebraska, was held in the City of Omaha, in April, 1859. Levi Scott was Bishop and conducted the ceremonies.

FIRST METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH—W. B. Slaughter, Pastor.—Located on Thirteenth Street, between Farnham and Douglas Streets, is a very neat brick edifice 38 by 60. This Church almost doubled the number of its members during the past year, it is in a flourishing condition. The interior arrangements of the Church has been refitted during the past year. The members have a regular prayer meeting every day at noon. Hours of service on Sunday, half past ten A. M., and a quarter to eight P. M.

ROMAN CATHOLIC—Located on Seventh near Harney, was erected in 1856. The Right Reverend Bishop O'Gorman is located here; his jurisdiction extends over Nebraska, Wyoming, Colorado, and Idaho Territories. Hours of service at half-past seven, nine and half past ten o'clock A. M., and Vespers at three o'clock P. M. The Church is entirely inadequate to accommodate the large number of Catholics of this City. A new Cathedral is now in course of erection, which for size and architectural beauty, will surpass any religious structure in the Territory. A block of ground has been purchased, the building will be 60 by 120 feet; the foundation will be stone with a moulded base of cut stone seven inches high and eight to twelve inches wide, to pass entirely around the building. The main building will be brick. It is to have a bell tower and a spire. The building, when completed, will have a gallery.

LUTHERAN CHURCH (EMANUELS).—This Church was dedicated on the 16th of February, 1862. The building is one of the finest in the City; connected with it is a Parsonage, which was erected in 1863, and both of which are built of brick. It is located on Douglas street, between Twelfth and Thirteenth streets. Henry W. Kuhns, pastor. Measures have been taken—with every prospect of success—to erect a large and more commodious Church on the corner of Douglas and Thirteenth.

CONGREGATIONAL.—Located on Sixteenth Street near the corner of Farnham, (opposite the Court House). This is a substantial brick edifice. It has a basement running the entire length of the building, which is used by Mrs. Sarah Cooper, for a select school. Size of the building, thirty by fifty. Rev. W. W Rose, pastor.

TRINITY, (EPISCOPAL.)—Located on Ninth Street near Farnham. This Church was erected in 1859. There are several lots attached to the Church property. The building is erected in the centre of the lot. The grounds, around the building are planted with shade and other trees, which adds greatly to the beauty and value of the Church property. The members of this Church are very numerous, and are increasing so rapidly that the Vestry have now under consideration the necessity for either enlarging the present building, or erecting a new one. This Church has a very fine organ. W. H. Van Antwerp, pastor.

The Baptists have lately organized, and will erect a Church during the coming Summer. Hours of service, ten o'clock A. M., and seven o'clock P. M.

PRESBYTERIAN.—The present building is situated on Street between . They have now completed arrangments for the erection of a larger building on the corner of Seventeenth and Dodge. F. M. Dimmick, pastor.

Schools.

One of the most conclusive proofs of the intelligence and enlightened ideas of a community, is the interest taken in the education of the youths in their midst. In this respect Omaha takes no second rank. There is not another City in the West, where the public takes such a universal interest in all matters pertaining to to the education, and moral training of their children, than is evinced in Omaha. Large tracts of land have been reserved by the Government for a School Fund, (special school taxes are levied by the City) and the public are always prepared to make liberal donations, either for the erection of new school houses, or the repairing of the old, and this is one of the reasons that our City is so rapidly growing in population and wealth. Individuals from the East with growing families of sons and daughters, seeking for themselves a new home in our broad and fertile West, become favorably impressed with our School system, and the advantages we present for the educational and moral training of their growing families, and this is the class of people, with capital, and energy, that build up cities and develop the resources of our soil. There are twelve educational establishments in this City.

Public Schools.—There are at present three Public Schools in the City, and the Board of Education have now under contract three additional brick buildings for school purposes, the buildings will be erected in eligible locations, and every effort has been used to make the buildings models, for comfort and architectural beauty. When they are erected and all the improvements in shool architecture is considered in their construction, they will be more eloquent to the stranger seeking a home in the West, to induce him to locate in our midst, than any prospective advantages that other cities may boast of. Let them be neatly furnished and provided with all the necessary appliances; let the grounds be planted with shade trees and made attractive to pupils and teachers alike; let the same prudent and liberal spirit which has characterized us in the past, be manifested in securing and retaining competent and earnest teachers, in a word let the Public Schools be made good enough for the best, and the day is not far distant, when Omaha, the Metropolis of the Territory, and the first City of the Missouri Valley, will be as renowned for the excellance of her schools, as she is now for the beauty of her location, her geographical advantages, and the enterprise of her citizens. We have every reason to believe that the Board of Education will soon make this a sober reality.

The Board of Education is composed of our wealthiest and best citizens, men known for their spotless integrity, great philanthrophy, and the interest they take in Educational matters. Lorin B. Miller, Mayor of the City and one of the early pioneers; Geo. B. Lake and B. E. B. Kennedy are the three gentlemen composing the Board of Education.

Cemeteries.

There are three Cemeteries in and connected with this City.

PROSPECT HILL CEMETERY.—Situated Northwest of the City and adjoining the Corporation line. It was laid out and is owned by Byron Reed, Esq., it is located on high and eligible ground and is ornamented with shade trees. Mr. Reed has planted within the limits 12,000 trees. It contains 20 acres. It is laid out in lots fifteen by twenty feet. All denominations have the privilege of burial.

MOUNT ST. MARY'S.—This Cemetery is under the auspices of the Right Rev. Bishop James M. O'Gorman (Catholic), it adjoins the grounds of Mount St. Mary's Convent. It contains at present but one acre, but the Bishop intends enlarging it. It is fenced in and has a natural grove of timber, it is divided into lots ten by twelve.

Early Settler's Association.

This Association was organized on the Second day of January, 1866. It is composed exclusively of the first, or early settlers of Omaha and Douglas County. Its objects are to collect such statistics of the early settlement, and important events of Douglas County in the past, as would be interesting to the future historian; to preserve for reference such data and reminiscences as they consider necessary. They have a semi-annual reunion for social intercourse and a general review of the past, and an annual meeting on the 8th of January of each year except when that date shall be on Sunday, and then it shall be on the succeeding Monday. Its present officers are: Dr. Enos Lowe, President; Dr. G. L. Miller, Vice-President; A. D. Jones, Sec and Treas. The following is the names of the first settlers with the dates of their arrival in the Territory:

Wm. D. Brown, June 3d, 1850.
Enos Lowe, June 25th, 1853.

O. P. Ingalls, September 7th, 1855.
John P. McPherson, October 25th, 1855.
Rev. R. Gaylord, December 25th, 1855.
Moses Shinn, April, 1855.
J. M. Marston, November 18th, 1855.
W. W. Wyman, and family, June 5th, 1855.
Allen Root, May 16th, 1855.
J. C. Reeves, July 10th 1854.
A. B. Moore, April 22d, 1854.
D. C. Sutphen, September 4th, 1857.
H. B. Paris, November 15th, 1857.
M. B. Riley, August 11th. 1857.
Daniel Gantt, May 12th, 1857.
J. W. Pickard, December 19th, 1855.
S. A. Orchard, November 15th, 1855.
J. H. Sahler, August 29th, 1856.
E. Estabrook, January 23d, 1855.
R S. Knox, January 3d, 1856.

A short time since, Dr. Geo. L. Miller had a social reunion at his residence, of those who settled here previous to 1854 and '55, at that reunion there was A. D. Jones, the first Postmaster; A. J. Poppleton, the first Attorney and the first man to mail a letter from Omaha; Bill Snowden who dug the first grave and became the first Auctioneer; John Logan who was the first man married in Omaha: Bill Brown who first claimed the town site; Doctor Lowe who formed the company to lay out the city; Dr. Miller who attended the first sick person in Omaha; Withnell Brothers who laid the first brick; Selden who fired the first forge; Col. A. R. Gilmore who was the first U. S. Land Officer ever appointed in Nebraska; James Megeath who was the first merchant in Omaha; H. D. Johnson who was the first fellow green enough to run for Congress in Nebraska,—been several times since we are pained to state; Capt. McPherson who ran the first steam ferry, and runs a big one now; Capt. Downs who carried stakes to drive down and mark out the streets, lots and blocks; Experience Estabrook who was the first U. S. District Attorney for Nebraska; Joseph W. Paddock the first Clerk of the House of Representatives and the first old bachelor; Col. Lorin Miller, present Mayor of the City and many others were present. All in all, it was a jolly time and yet graves were thought of, and some not there in the flesh wandered in that circle.

Masonic.

The Grand Lodge of Nebraska, Free and Accepted Masons, was organized in the Masonic Hall, Omaha, September 23d, A. D. 1857, A. L. 5,857, by delegates from Nebraska Lodge No. 1, of Bellevue; Western Star Lodge No. 2, of Nebraska City; and Capitol Lodge No. 3, of Omaha. R. C. Jordan, of Omaha, was elected Grand Master and R. W. Furnas, of Brownsville, Grand Secretary. There are now thirteen subordinate Lodges in Nebraska, working by authority of the Grand Lodge. The officers, at present, are R. W. Furnas, of Omaha Reserve, M. W. Grand Master; and J. N. Wise, of Plattsmouth, R. W. Grand Secretary. The Grand Lodge meets annually on the festival of St. John the Baptist (June 24th), at such place as is designated at its previous meeting.

Capitol Lodge No. 3, Omaha, meets first Monday in each month, at Masonic Hall, Farnham Street. L. J. Ruth, Sec'y, Augustus Roeder, W. M.

Covert Lodge U. D., Omaha, meets second Wednesday in each month, at Masonic Hall, Farnham Street. G. Y. Wallace, Sec'y, W. E. Harvey, W. M.

Omaha Chapter No. 1, Royal Arch Masons, meets first Tuesday in each month, at Masonic Hall, Farnham Street. C. F. Catlin, Sec'y, C. W. Hamilton, H. P.

Mount Calvary Commandery No. 1, Knights Templar and Knights of Malta, organized Aug. 2d, 1865, A. O. 747. Meets at Masonic Hall, Farnham Street, second Thursday in each month. C. W. Hamilton, Recorder, R. C. Jordan, Em. Com.

Odd Fellows.

This like the Masonic Fraternity claims a large portion of the leading business men of the City, as members. The organization is now in a flourishing condition, they have a large and commodious Hall in the Pioneer Block. The Grand Lodge of Nebraska is located here. There are four Lodges in this City, (one German.)

Regular Meetings, First and Third Thursday's of each month, in Odd Fellow's Hall, Pioneer Block.

A. D. Jones, Esq., of this City, Grand Master of the Jurisdiction of Nebraska, has just compiled and published a work, of about 100 pages, on the subject of Odd Fellowship. It embraces the laws of the Order, a full and complete set of forms, instructions in reference to Lodge book-keeping, and concludes with a copious analytical index enabling the reader to readily find any subject of inquiry within the volume. It is the result of much labor and research. It is the most complete, and best work on the particular matters of which it treats, which we have seen. It will be a valuable addition to the library of members of the Order.

German Odd Fellows

Was organized on the 26th day of March, 1864. This is the only German Lodge in Nebraska, or West of St. Louis; it started with five members, and has now 24 members and is rapidly augmenting in numbers. Meets every Wednesday evening at Odd Fellows Hall, East side of Pioneer Block. The officers are C. J. Karbach, N. G.; F. Klaffner, V. G., and Wm. Doll, Sec'y.

Odd Fellows' Relief Association.

Members of the Odd Fellows Society in this city, seeing the necessity for an organization to relieve the wants of the poor and indigent, formed themselves into a society with the above title. Their charities partake of a cosmopolitan character. All that it requires to receive aid, is, the knowledge on the part of the dispensers that the party making application is in need of assistance. No partiality is shown to race, color or religion. The Society furnishes food and fuel, and when necessary cash. Its officers and members are among our oldest citizens, and are noted for their universal philanthropy. It was organized December 18th, 1865.

OFFICERS—S. J. Goodrich President; A. P. Hansen Vice President; John Evans Secretary; John Campbell Treasurer.

RESOURCE COMMITTEE—Gov. A. Saunders, Mr. A. D. Jones, Dr. G. L. Miller, Mrs. Gov. Saunders, Mrs. Chas. Powell.

RELIEF COMMITTEE—Mr. L. C. Huntington, Rev. H. W. Kuhns, Mr. Henry Grebe, Mrs. S. J. Goodrich, Mrs. J. Sawyer.

BUSINESS COMMITTEE—Mr. J. S. Gibson, Mr. W. L. May, Mr. M. G. Cole.

Good Templars.

I. O. G. T.—This society has just been organized. It is called Omaha Lodge No. 5, of Nebraska. Chas. E. Pareel, D. G. W. C. of the Territory, instituted the Lodge in accordance with the rules and regulations of the order. At a late election the following ladies and gentlemen were elected:

C. C. Strawn, Worthy Chief Templar.
Miss Maggie Macready, W. V. Templar.
E. H. Cooper, Worthy Secretary.
Frank Griffin, Worthy Financial Secretary.
Miss Carrie Goodwill, Worthy Treasurer.

Young Men's Christian Association.

This has just been organized. Its officers have not yet been selected.

Hibernian Benevolent Society.

This association was organized for the purpose of mutual benevolence, social intercommunion, aiding and affording advice to immigrants seeking homes in Nebraska. Already through the efficiency of its officers, it has done much toward giving information to immigrants seeking homes in the West. Its officers are Dr. Phillip O'Hanlon, President; Vincent Burkley, Vice President; F. M. McDonagh, Cor. Sec'y; Alex. J. Burke, Rec. Sec'y; Rev. J. Curtis, Treasurer; Society Physician, Dr. D. R. Shanahan. Investigating Committee, Thos. O'Conner, Thos. Riley, John N. Whelan, T. L. Sutton, M. B. Riley. Finance Committee, C. Maguire, J. B. Callihan, Andrew Dellone. Visiting Committee, L. McDermott, Timothy Kelly, P. McEnroe, J. Clifford. Sergt. at Arms, Thos. Swift.

St. Andrew's Society of Nebraska,

Was organized January 1st, 1866. Its object is to assist Scotchmen to find homes in Nebraska by giving them such information as to the soil, climate, and resources, as will enable them to select homes and locations to the best advantage. They have already done much good, having assisted a great many of their countrymen to find locations and employment. The Society uses its funds when needed, in dispensing charity to worthy families of their countrymen. They commemorate St. Andrew's day and other important events in the history of Scotland. It has about 40 members, and is continually increasing—meets quarterly. Its officers are Alexander McAusland, President; A. Macready, Secretary; and John Robb, Treasurer.

Fenian Brotherhood.

The Fenian Brotherhood originated with some of the leading representatives of Ireland, resident in America after their failure in the attempted revolution in 1848. Its avowed objects are to wrest from England, by the sword, if necessary, Ireland, and establish on Irish soil a Republican form of government, similar to our own. Some months since it counted its members by the hundred thousand, and its sympathisers by the million, but owing to mismanagement, and perhaps treachery on the part of some of the leading members of the O'Mahoney faction, it is fast losing public confidence, and the prestige it formerly enjoyed. The honest leading men of the Brotherhood, or what is known as the Senatorial party, with W. R. Roberts as their President, for malfeasance in office, deposed John O'Mahoney as president of the Brotherhood. He disregarding their actions still continued to call himself the "Head Centre" of the United States. He has by the unanimous voices of the Brotherhood of the United States been removed. Gen. Sweeney, whose military history is a household word, has been elected and accepted the position of Secretary of War of the Roberts party of the Fenian Brotherhood. He is now busily engaged in buying arms, and we may expect to hear of an invasion of some of the British Possessions at an early date. He and the men who are connected with him are not dreamy theorists, but practical workers. He has our earnest prayer for the success of his mission. The circle in this city was organized some time since. It has about 10 members.

German Reading Association

Was organized in March, 1864. The aim of the members of this Society is, to disseminate useful knowledge, cultivate and foster a spirit of harmony and friendship among its members and their countrymen, and furnish them with choice reading. It has now a library of choice and miscellaneous works, for the use of members. These books are taken home and read, and are returned after a specified time, when another work can be selected, (similar to a circulating library). The initiation fee, to be entitled to membership, is two dollars, with an additional ten cents per month as long as they continue members. It has now 40 members. Its officers are, Pres., H. Grebe; Librarian, W. H.

Heidelberg; Treasurer, M. J. Radovsky; Secretary, Conrad Schafer.

City, County, Territorial and Federal Officers.

The City Government is composed of our oldest, wealthiest, and most respected citizens; men noted for their judgment, local pride, and energy. They have now under contract, and in contemplation, permanent improvements, which when carried out, will have the effect of beautifying the city, enhancing the value of real estate, and giving us a drainage system unsurpassed. The city is divided into three wards, having a representation of two councilmen from each. The names of our city officers, are Lorin Miller, Mayor, office Court House; Byron Reed, Clerk, office 14th, between Farnham and Douglas streets; Edwin Patrick, Assessor, office Court House; William Snowden, Marshal; Jeremiah Mahoney, Street Commissioner; Wm. Fire Department.

Pacific Hook and Ladder Company.—This Company was lately organized. They have all the necessary appliances, connected with a Hook and Ladder Company. The city has in contemplation the purchase of a steam fire engine. Engine house located on Twelvth street, between Farnham and Douglas.

GENERAL REVIEW.

Foundries.

A Mr. Clark, who has the reputation of being an experienced Foundryman, and practical mechanic, has purchased three acres of ground on the South Side of Pearce, between Second and Third Streets, on which he has commenced the erection of an extensive Foundry and Machine Shop. This is a desideratum, the want of which has long been felt. Our merchants can now have manufactured at home their iron doors, and fronts for their Business Houses, etc.; and our farmers will not have to send abroad for their sugar mills. A large portion of the machinery for this Foundry is now on the ground.

The Union Pacific Railroad Company have made an arrangement with this Foundry, by which all the moulding and iron work connected with the building of their locomotives, cars, etc will be done here.

Breweries.

There are four Breweries in successful operation, in this City, the largest and most extensive of which is the Nebraska Brewery, Metz & Bro., proprietors, located in South Omaha. The proprietors are practical brewers, and have superior facilities for manufacturing and brewing; and they sell more than any similar establishment in the City.

OMAHA BREWERY.—Fred. Krug & Co., proprietors—situated in South Omaha.

COLUMBIA BREWERY—located in Saratoga Flat, was erecte in 1864. E. D. Dallow, proprietor.

WAYMILLAR'S, located in North Omaha.

Soap Factory.

The Soap Factory is located on Thirteenth Street near th Railroad. They manufacture all kinds of soap, candles, etc. I was started about two years since. It has a capacity to furnish all the soap and candles necessary to supply the wants of th Upper Missouri, and the surrounding country. It is owned b Powell & Bacon.

Union Pacific Railroad Shop.

One of the noticeable features of the City that first attract the eye of the stranger, is the Machine, Repairing Shops, and other buildings that this Company have erected. They are situated a short distance from the river; the buildings are all o brick; the machinery connected with the buildings are propelled by steam. The Company intend to build their cars and a large proportion of the rolling stock of the road, here.

Hannibal & St. Joe. R. R. Packet Line.

The Omaha & St. Joseph Packet Line, running in connection with the Hannibal & St. Joseph Railroad, make tri-weekly trips. The boats connected with this line are all new, and great care has been taken in the selection of competent officers. The line is composed of the following boats: Jessie H. Lacy, H. C. Bell, Captain, W. B. Leonard, Clerk; Denver, J. C. Waddell, Captain, H. P. Deuel, Clerk; Colorado, John D. Hooper, Captain, O. N. Brown, Clerk; St. Joseph, Robert Bailey, Captain, W. W. Copeland, Clerk. The fare from Omaha to St. Joseph during the Summer is $13, in the Cabin, and $5 on Deck. R. Ford, Superintendent, St. Joseph; Porter & Deuel, Gen. Agents, Farnham Street near Twelfth, Omaha.

Omaha & St. Louis Packet Line.

The Omaha & St. Louis Packet Line, is composed of five first class steamboats, making tri-weekly trips between St. Louis and this point. The boats are all light draught and are officered by experienced boatmen. J. A. Horbach & Co., Agents for Omaha.

Banks and Bankers.

Millard, Caldwell & Co.—The original firm of Barrows, Millard & Co., started a Banking House in this City in 1856. In 1864 the name of the firm was changed to its present name. The members of this firm own a controlling interest in the Omaha National Bank, Ezra Millard, Esq., being its President, and Jos N. Field, Esq., Cashier. The Omaha National Bank was started a few months since and is now in successful operation. The firm make a speciality of the purchase of Gold Dust, buying heavily during the season, and always paying the highest market price. Office of Omaha National, and Millard, Caldwell & Co.'s Bank, corner Twelfth and Farnham.

Kountze Bros.—This firm started in business here, on the 10th of December, 1857—the style of the firm being as above.

On the 1st of July, 1865, a charter was obtained for the First National Bank, of Omaha; the members of the firm of Kountze Bros., owning a controlling interest. They have just erected and moved into their new spacious building, corner of Farnham and Thirteenth Strets. This firm bave control of an immense capital, and enjoy an unparalleled confidence in commercial circles. They issue Drafts on all parts of the United States and Europe. Directors of the First National Bank: E. Creighton, President; A. Saunders, Vice-President; Aug. Kountze, Cashier; H. Kountze, and H. W. Yates, Assistant Cashiers.

——— Weare, Esq., of Nebraska City, a Banker of long experience in that City, has now in course of erection, on the Northwest corner of Farnham and Thirteenth Streets, a fine two story brick edifice, 22 by 107, which he intends to use for the carrying on of a Banking business, in this City.

Thus, one by one, Omaha gathers within her fold, the solid and wide-awake business men of the Northwest. Men with foresight sufficient, to see our advantages, and energy enough to embrace the present opportunity.

Newspapers.

Herald, Daily and Weekly.—Published by Miller & Carpenter. Dr. Miller is amongst one of the oldest settlers in Nebraska, and Mr. Carpenter is well known to the newspaper fraternity of the West. He published the Council Bluffs Bugle, from July 4th, 1857, up to the time of the starting of the Herald. The Herald is recognised as the leading Democratic organ of the Territory; its editorials are noted for their originality of thought, and fearless advocacy of Democratic Doctrines. The local columns under the supervision of "Little Mac." are always fresh, spicy and readable. Mr. Carpenter attends to the "making up," and general business department of the paper; the type is all new. The first number of the Herald was issued October 1st, 1865, as a six column paper, but owing to the rapid increase of its business the Daily, on the 1st of May, 1866, was increased to seven columns, making it now the largest paper in the Northwest. Office corner of Douglas and Thirteenth Streets.

Republicln, Daily and Weekly.—This is amongst one of the oldest papers in Nebraska, it was started as a weekly, in August, 1858, by H. & J. Brown. In 1859 it was sold to E. B. Webster, who run until 1860, when E. A. B. Taylor and E. A. McClure purchased Mr. Webster's interest–Messrs. Balcombe & Co. have lately purchased it–it was changed to a Daily on the 9th of January, 1863. It is a six column paper, 24 X 36. Since the present proprietors have taken charge of it there is a decided improvement in the editorials, locals, and general "make up." Judge Williams, a spicy writer, and a gentleman having a large newspaper experience, has charge of the local columns. Office Pionee Block, Farnham Street, between Eleventh and Twelfth.

Insurance.

Those wishing to insure in reliable companies should not fail to to make the acquaintance of Mr. J. H. Kellom, who represents some of the wealthiest companies in the United States, amongst which is the Home Insurance Company, of New York, having a cash capital of $2,000,000; the Hartford Fire Insurance Company, of Hartford Connecticut; Lorillard Fire Insurance Company, of New York; Connecticut Fire Insurance Company, of Hartford Connecticut, and the Equitable Life Insurance Company of New York, all old established, and well known companies, their names being as familiar to the people of the United States as "Household Words." The above companies are noted for their reliability, and promptness of payment to those having just claims against them, a desideratum which is not to be overlooked during these times of bogus companies, whose capital consists in fancy posters and flaming advertisements. Mr. Kellom's office is at the Court House.

Farmer's and Merchant's Insurance Company, of Quincy, Illinois. This is the oldest, as well as the most reliable Western Company extant, a glance at their annual statement satisfies us that insurers in this company will be dealt with honorably and fairly. It numbers amongst its officers, and Board of Directors, some of the wealthiest men in Illinois. The office in this city was only opened on the 25th of November last, since that time Policies have been issued to our business men in this city and neighborhood to the amount of $600,000, a patronage unprecedented in the annals of Insurance. The capital of the company on the 1st of June, was increased to $1,000,000. The company have a strong hold—and the people great faith in its management. Chas. T. Whitmore, chief agent for Nebraska, has a Western Branch in this city, he has authority to adjust and settle all claims against the company here, thus saving the delay incident to having to send the papers and proofs to Headquarters. Office Pioneer Block between Eleventh and Twelfth streets, C. T. Whitmore, agent.

General Review.

J. W. McCormick & Co., Farnham street, between 13th and 14th, are the the first exclusive wholesale grocers, either in Omaha or Nebraska Territory, having started in their present location in March, 1857. They command a large interior trade, are prompt and reliable. The members of the firm are gentlemen of life-time experience in the business; their stock is large, and always selected with care, and bought for cash, giving them a decided advantage over would-be wholesale, and largely retail branches of foreign houses established in our city. This firm are identified with the city, its trade and growth. This house has a fire proof magazine for the storage of powder and other inflamable articles. The Magazine is situated north-west of the city. Mr. John McCormick, the senior partner, has erected one of the finest dwelling houses in Omaha. It is situated on the corner of Dodge and Eighteenth streets, and next to the Capitol is the first thing that attracts the eye of the stranger visiting, or passing through the city.

R. A. BROWN, Wholesale and Retail dealer in Groceries, Dry Goods, Notions, etc., is one of the pioneer merchants, having started in business here in 1856, and being the third established business house in Omaha. He has a monster stock of goods; enjoys a fine reputation as a business man, and stands O. K., on the books of Commercial agencies throughout the United States. His store, situated on Douglas street, between Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets, is a fine two story brick building, and from its imposing appearance, is one of the noticeable features of that street.

J. McCracken & Co., have just started a new music store on Farnham street, between 11th and 12th. They have opened out, and have on hand the largest stock of musical instruments, sheet music, and everything appertaining to their business in the West. In fact this is the only establishment in Nebraska that keeps on hand a stock of pianos, organs and melodeons. This firm are agents for Steinway & Sons, Gale & Co., and W. B. Bradbury's pianos, and the celebrated Mason & Hamlin's organs, for church and parlor use, and B. Shoninger's Melodeons. Their store is one of the neatest in the West, and well repays a visit. Judiciousness and a keen perception of the wants of their customers, have guided this firm in the selection of their stock. Mr. J. McCracken, the senior partner, is one of the self made men of our city. He came here at an early day, and by honesty, business tact, and perseverance, has gained the good wishes of all who know him. The firm under his management is sure of success.

CLAYTON, STEPHENS & WILCOX, Farnham Street near Fourteenth—Dry Goods Merchants, started in business here about one year ago. The business of this firm has increased so rapidly that they are about to open an exclusive Wholesale Department. They have several branch stores located at prominent points. The members of the firm are well known, "Captain Wilcox" being a household word among Merchants on the Missouri river. Ladies can nowhere receive more polite attention, or see on exhibition a larger variety, or more extensive and general assortment of useful goods than at the establishment of Clayton, Stephens & Wilcox.

Barkalow Bros. & Co., Stationers, Booksellers, News Depot, and Agents U. S. Express Co —The old adage of "Small beginnings, etc.," was probably never more fully verified than in the subjects of our present sketch. From the limited news depot they kept steadily increasing, until the present, they have now moved into their new store room, on Farnham street, between Fourteenth and Fifteenth streets, where they purchase direct from the Publishers and Manufacturers, which enables them to supply their customers with a superior article at moderate prices. They keep a large variety of Wall Paper in addition to their large and miscellaneous stock of Newspapers, Books and Stationery. They have a large assortment of School, Law, Blank Books, and Printers' Material. Their store is a model, themselves master-spirits, and their motto is "Excelsior."

Poland & Patrick.—This firm have just completed a warehouse on the corner Ninth and Farnham streets. The building is a two story frame 30 by 100 feet. They are prepared to do a general Storage and Commission business, and general Grocery Agents. This firm are agents for Bishops' celebrated Freight Wagons, a large number of which they have always on hand, and are the introducers of the Brickmaking Machine, which is creating such a revolution in this department of labor.

Milton Rogers, Stoves and Tinware, corner of Fourteenth and Farnham streets, (opposite the Post Office) is the oldest and most extensive dealer, either in Omaha or the Northwest. His store presents an array of varieties and styles in Stoves and Tinware, that baffles a detailed description, every variety and style from the recherche parlor, to the useful kitchen stove is here to be seen, while the stock of camp stoves and Tinware intended for a trip across the plains, is here found in endless variety. Pay him a visit, it will pay.

G. H. & J. S. COLLINS, Wholesale Dealers in Saddlery, Hardware, Harness, and Saddle Material, and Harness makers. This is the most live, go-aheadative and substantial firm, either in this, or any other city on the Missouri river. They established themselves here in 1863, by sagacity, fair dealing, a large capital, and a liberal use of Printers' Ink, their name and business has become a household word in the Northwest. Their motto in all things being "Excelsior," they both court and defy competition. Their stock is selected with care, purchased for cash by one of the partners, who imports and selects from the various manufactories and ships direct to his firm here, thus saving the Importers and Jobbers' profit, which is placed to the benefit of their customers. They likewise keep on hand and have made to order, a large var ety of all kinds of buggies and wagons. This firm have bought the exclusive right for the sale of the celebrated Frazer's Lubricator, in Nebraska, Kansas, Iowa and all Western Territories. Their store is on Douglas street between Thirteenth and Fourteenth.

HURFORD & BRO., dealers in Hardware, &c. This firm is identified with the early history of the city, being the first establishment of its kind started here. They have several branch stores, located at different points. They enjoy a large trade, and a public confidence which is a source of pride to themselves, and a proof that their honesty and fair dealing is appreciated by both patrons and the public. Located on Douglas street.

M. TOOTLE & CO., Wholesale and Retail dealers in Dry Goods, carpets, etc. This house enjoys peculiar advantages. The Senior members of the firm representing some of the oldest and wealthiest merchants in the Northwest. This house has a large trade, which is constantly augmenting. Their store is on Farnham street, between 13th and 14th.

IRON AND HEAVY HARDWARE.-C. W. Burt, exclusive dealer in Steel, Iron and Heavy Hardware, is now laying in the largest stock ever brought to the Northwest. Mr. Burt's establishment is the only one west of Chicago that makes a speciality of this line of business. Merchants, mill owners, and others interested, would do well to pay a visit to his establishment, or send for his price list before ordering from the East, and incurring the risk of delay and high freights. Store rooms on Farnham, between 14th and 15th streets.

Megeath Bros., Wholesale and Retail dealers in Groceries, Dry Goods, Notions, etc., are about making a large addition to their present building. An additional brick building is in course of erection on 13th street, which, when completed will give them an entrance and sale room on both Farnham and 13th. They will then have the largest store room in either Omaha or in the West. This firm have an immense trade, both with the plains and the surrounding towns. Dealers from a distance will find an immense stock to select from, and at prices that defy competition.

M. Hellman & Co, Clothiers and Outfitters. This is one of the oldest and best firms in the city. They have just moved into their new store on the corner of Farnham and 14th streets. This store will be used exclusively for their immense wholesale trade, and their old store and present location will be used as formerly, for the general retail business. Their spring and summer stock comprises all the newest and latest styles and the emigrant intending to cross the plains, will here find everything adapted to his wants. The cash system adopted by this firm enables them to sell cheaper here than the same goods can be purchased at retail in the East.

Omaha Flouring and Saw Mills—Thomas Davis, proprietor, situated in South Omaha, near Railroad. The flour manufactured at these mills is of a superior quality, and commands as high a price as any of the numerous imported brands to be found in this market.

The saw mills are connected with the flour mills. The proprietor has now under contract, and in course of erection new and enlarged machinery, which, when completed, will double their present capacity. This enlargement is deemed necessary from the increased demand, and the rapid settling of the city and country, and the increased amount of soil under cultivation.

THERE are two distilleries in this city, for the manufacture of Whisky.

THERE are several Wagon Manufactories and Wagon Depots, where wagons can be purchased cheaper than at the factories East adding transportation. G. H. and J. S. Collins, have a Wagon depot corner of Douglas and 13th street, where a large variety, from the lightest spring, to the heaviest freight wagon, can be seen.

POLAND & PATRICK, cor Farnham and Ninth street, keep a large number of Bishop's celebrated freight wagons on hand.

J. A. HORBACH & CO., are the agents in this city for the sale of the popular "Schuttler's," and the well known "Studebaker Bros." wagons.

INTERNATIONAL BILLIARD HALL, Shoef Bros. proprietors. This is the largest and best arranged Hall in the West, the tables are all new and have all the latest improvements attached to them. This is the only place in the City where the lovers of Billiards can have an opportunity of satiating his thirst, either at a sociable game of Billiards, or with the tempting and pure liquors for which this establishment is celebrated. The International is located in Pioneer Block, Farnham street, between Eleventh and Twelfth.

FIRE-ARMS.—A. D. McAusland, corner of Fourteenth and Douglas Street, has the largest assortment of Fire arms and sporting material in the City. He, as well as his sons are all practical workmen, and a long residence in the West enables them to judge of, and supply the wants of those contemplating a trip across the plains. He is exclusive agent in this City for the celebrated Hazard Powder Company. He has now in course of completion (one mile south of the City) a large fire proof Powder Magazine.

U. P. R. R. Livery Stable, Wilbur & Coffman, proprietors, corner of Fifteenth and Farnham streets. They have one of the largest and best ventilated stables West of the Missouri river, it is built of brick 150 feet long by 40 wide, having a range of stalls on each side with accommodations for a large number of animals. A large and commodious carriage house is connected with the main building.

Mammoth Corralls, Geo. W. Homan, Sr., proprietor, corner of Thirteenth and Harney streets. They are truly mammoth in their proportions and cover almost the entire block. Emigrants and others can rely upon being fairly dealt with, and their stock receive the best of care when placed in his charge.

Excelsior Stables, Geo. W. Homan, Jr., proprietor, corner of Douglas and Ninth street, has just started a new Livery Stable under the above caption, a title, by the bye, which a visit to his stables—and an examination of his stock will justify.

Energy—Honesty—Its Results.—Geo. A. Lilly, practical Harnessmaker and Saddler, started in business, in this City, in 1862, by indefatigable energy, a practical knowledge of his business, and close application to the wants of his patrons, he has established for himself a trade which he has good reason to be proud of. He has the largest establishment, of the kind, in the city, the entire building being used as office, salesroom and shops for the workmen. His establishment is situated on Douglas street between Thirteenth and Fourteenth, it is two stories high the ground floor is used as a display, salesroom and office, here can be seen an endless variety of Saddles and Harness, from the plain California Saddle-tree and working Harness, to the most elaborately mounted and finished. The entire second floor is occupied by his workmen, for manufacturing and repairing. A special branch of Mr. Lilly's business is the manufacture of collars. He employs none but the best of workmen, and is one of the few men that "deal on the square" with all.

F. A. Schneider, Dealer in Hardware.—Mr. Schneider opened the first Hardware store in the Territory, having located in this City in 1856. By uprightness, honesty, and fair dealing he has built up a good business and reputation.

The Nebraska Ferry Company have one of the best and largest Steam Ferries on the Missouri river. The boat makes trips every fifteen minutes between this and the opposite bank of the Missouri.

New Hotel.—Mr. I. L. LaFlesh, the well known Auctioneer, has leased, for three years, the Tremont House, located on Capitol Avenue. The House has been refitted and refurnished throughout. From a personal acquaintance with Mr. LaFlesh, we can confidently recommend him to the travelling public as a gentleman and a Landlord that does know "How to keep a Hotel.'

It is a matter of some importance not only to the travelling public, but to our citizens to know, that the Marble Hall Restaurant, corner Douglas and Fifteenth streets, is one of the best, cleanest, and neatest institutions West of St. Louis. We speak from our own experience. Visit it, and corroborate our assertion. Munger & Co., proprietors.

J. J. Sutphens' Tobacco, Cigar and Notion House, Sign of the Big Indian, (not sign of Big Meerschaum Pipe), north side Farnham, near the corner of Thirteenth, keeps constantly on hand a large and varied assortment of Ammunition, Stationery, Notions, and an endless variety of brands of Cigars and Tobacco. Remember sign of Big Indian.

Geo. A. Hoagland & Son, the pioneer Lumber Merchants, can be found on the corner of Thirteenth and Douglas street. Their superior facilities, as well as immense stock, gives them a prestige in their business and enables them to anticipate the wants of our people, here will be found a large stock of sea-

NEW HALL.—In the new brick block to be built on the south side of Douglas street opposite the Herald office, there is to be a splendid Hall for concerts, lectures, dramatic representations, balls, fairs, &c. It will be 100 feet by 44, and to the ceiling 20 feet. The entrance will be a magnificent arrangement.

S. & A. B. SAUNDERS & Co.—This is the name of a new Dry Goods House that has just started here. Their stock is fresh from the manufactory, and their goods were purchased after the great decline in cotton goods. Their store is located on the North side of Farnham between Twelfth and Thirteenth.

Do YOU want a choice article of Tobacco and Cigars, or a genuine Meerschaum? Then visit the establishment of Messrs. Sutphens, on Farnham Street, sign of the Monster Meerschaum Pipe; and while there we warrant that your curiosity will be aroused and your fancy tickled, at the numerous, new and novel articles exhibited by this firm. They have new styles of fire-arms, inexhaustible supplies of stationery, and an endless variety of notions, to please the fastidious and satisfy all. Remember the sign Big Meerschaum.

IF YOU want a fancy sign—nice lettering—or any other kind of Painting done, don't forget Hinckley, corner of Twelfth and Dodge. He is the best, and for aught we know, the only painter in the City. He does all the fine work of the City.

MRS. G. S. BRONSON'S Millinery Establishment, on South side Farnham near Fourteenth street, is the place where Ladies go to see the latest fashions—newest styles, and endless varieties of Millinery Goods. Dressmaking done by adepts in the business.

NEW HALL.—In the new brick block to be built on the south side of Douglas street opposite the Herald office, there is to be a splendid Hall for concerts, lectures, dramatic representations, balls, fairs, &c. It will be [illegible] feet by 54, and to the ceiling 20 feet. The entrance will be [illegible] arrangement.

S. & A. H. STEPHENSON.—This is the name of a new Dry Goods House that has just started here. Their stock is fresh from the manufactory, and their goods were purchased after the great decline in cotton goods. Their store is located on the North side of Farnham between Twelfth and Thirteenth.

Route to the West.

The emigrant starting across the plains from this point possesses himself of numerous advantages. Here the emigrants from the East have one of the largest and best steam ferries, on which to cross the Missouri the boat crossing the river every 15 minutes, and its great capacity saving delays.

The merchants all have large stocks of goods especially adapted to those crossing the plains.

The valley of the Platte is level, and affords excellent pasturage for stock, a desideratum to emigrants and freighters, the want of which will be felt by those starting from any of the other would-be starting points on the Missouri river. An excellent pontoon bridge now crosses the Loupe Fork, and the Union Pacific Railroad are now constructing a permanent and substantial bridge, with a double track for the crossing of their trains of cars, and wagons of the travelers.

At Fort Kearny, the Government is constructing a bridge across the Platte, the estimated cost of which will be about one million of dollars. The route from Omaha being continually traveled, ranches and stations can be found at convenient distances. Within six months the cars will be running to Fort Kearney, which will enable the emigrant to ride on a railroad 190 miles further on his route than he can from any other point. In fact this is the only actual railroad in Nebraska, and the probabilities are that it will remain so for some years.

A new route has been laid out to Montana, saving a distance of 400 miles, besides possessing the advantage of avoiding the heavy sand deserts to be met with by taking any other routes. The following article, which we take from the Omaha Daily Herald, is worthy of perusal:

The new Route to Montana—Table of Distances.

The following information was furnished by an old veteran of the Plains, Mr. John W. Smith, of the Kearny City firm of Smith & Leighton, who has just returned from Fort Reno, on Powder River. Mr. Smith has been over the new Route to Montana, the future thoroughfare to that rich region, and speaks from personal observation of its advantages.

From Omaha to Laramie, by the North Platte Route, it is at least 50 miles nearer than by that south of that river. This is the direct route, and saves the detour at the Junction of the Platte to Chimney Rock, on the North Fork. Besides the shorter distance, there is better grass, better wood, and better camping grounds. Sand is encountered for only about six miles on the whole road to Laramie, which is at four different places, where the hills jut out upon the river, but at no spot is there sand to exceed a mile, and none to interfere with a train moving right along. From Horse Shoe, above Laramie 37 miles, there are seven miles of rather rough road, but it is entirely practicable. Thirty miles from this point is Box Elder Creek, where the new route is taken to the northward.

THE NEW ROUTE.

This is not the Bosman Route, but is east of that, which it intersects near Tongue River. The first road point is Brown's Springs, 15 miles. Here there is no wood, but an excellent substitute is found in the Sage of that country, which grows to the size of six inches in diameter.

THE CHARACTER OF THE ROAD.

This is the best of all the overland roads. The surface of the country is not hilly at all, but gently undulating. Beyond Brown's Springs the road is smooth, no sand, no sloughs, no strains, the best natural road in the world.

STREAMS.

The only stream to cross on this Great Route is the Big Horn River, which cannot be forded. Maj. Bridger, the celebrated Mountaineer, has a Ferry already established over this stream.

WOOD, WATER AND GRASSES.

Of these necessary commodities there is an abundance after the traveler leaves Broun's Springs. The water is pure and plenty.

DISTANCE SAVED.

The New Route is 400 miles nearer to Virginia City from Omaha than the Old one by way of Salt Lake City.

GAME.

From Powder River, two miles beyond, there is plenty of Game. Buffalo, Elk, Deer, &c., and the streams swarm with the finest Trout.

CAUTION.

Emigrants should not go to Platte Bridge, but leave the old route at Box Elder, 50 or 60 miles west of Laramie, if they would avoid a bad, and find a good road.

Rates of Postage in the United States, and the Laws Relating Thereto.

The Postmaster General, all postmasters, and special agents, and all persons employed in the General Post Office, or in the care, custody, or conveyance of the mail, hereafter appointed or employed, shall, previous to entering upon the duties assigned to them, or the execution of their trusts, and before they shall be entitled to receive any emoluments therefor, in addition to the oath of office prescribed by the act of July 2d, eighteen hundred and sixty-two, respectively shall take and subscribe to the following oath or affirmation before some magistrate, and cause a certificate thereof to be filed in the General Post Office:

"I, A. B., do swear (or affirm, as the case may be) that I will faithfully perform all the duties required of me, and abstain from everything forbidden by the laws in relation to the establishment of the post office and post roads within the United States; and that I will honestly and truly account for and pay over any moneys belonging to the United States which may come into my possession and control, so help me God."

Every person who shall be in any manner employed in the care, custody, conveyance, or management of the mail, shall be subject to all pains, penalties, and forfeitures, for violating the injunctions or neglecting the duties required of him by the laws relating to the establishment of the post office and post roads, whether such persons shall have taken the oath or affirmation above prescribed or not.

No mail matter shall be delivered by the postmaster until the postage due thereon shall have been paid; and no box at any post office shall be assigned to the use of any person until the rent therefor has been paid for at least one quarter, for which the postmaster shall give a receipt, and keep a record thereof in his office, which record shall be delivered to his successor.

Whenever by the presence of a military or naval force near any post office, unusual business accrues thereat, the Postmaster General is hereby required to make a special order allowing proportionately reasonable compensensation to the postmaster, and for clerical service, during the period of such extraordinary business.

ADVERTISING LETTERS.

1. At post offices where the gross receipts amount to $1000 or more per annum, letters are to be advertised once a week, in newspapers, and the regulations of 1859 will govern the selection of newspapers.

2. At all other offices letters are to be advertised once a month, by posting manuscript lists, for which no compensation will be allowed.

The following classes of letters are not to be advertised:

1. Letters bearing requests to be returned to the writers if unclaimed, under sec. 28, or to be retained a specified time, not over three months; and it is especially directed that all printing, stamping, &c., upon undelivered letters, shall be carefully re-examined before advertising, so that no such requests shall be overlooked or neglected.

2. Letters for persons who regularly call at or send to the post office.

3. Drop and box letters, and return letters.

4. Letters directed and sent to hotels, and thence returned to the post office as unclaimed—being for strangers.

5. Refused letters.

6. Letters directed to persons deceased, or removed to places unknown.

Letters directed to persons who have removed to some other known office.

8. Circulars, free packets containing printed documents, speeches, and other printed matter.

Dead letters are to be returned under the following regulation:

1. All unclaimed advertised letters must be returned to the Dead Letter Office ONE MONTH after the date of their advertisement; and letters of classes 2 and 3 "not to be advertised," and any others, if not prepaid, when unclaimed a corresponding length of time with the advertised letters, must be sent in the same return—also all refused letters; but no description of dead letters must, under any circumstances whatever, be sent in the same package with a "Quarterly Return."

2. All offices advertising weekly, will return their unclaimed letters to the Dead Letter Office weekly, and about five weeks after their receipt; and,

3. All smaller offices, at which the periods for advertising are monthly, will advertise on the first of each calendar month.

Letters are retained in Post Office two months before they are returned to Dead Letter Office.

Letters received in January, if not claimed, must be advertised February 1, and returned to the Dead Letter Office March 1.

Domestic pamphlets, circulars, and newspapers are not to be returned to the Dead Letter Office; but books, and unpaid foreign pamphlets, newspapers, and other printed matter when refused, or unclaimed the usual time, (5 to 8 weeks,) must be returned with the regular weekly or monthly returns.

No postmaster shall receive, to be conveyed by the mail, any packet or package which shall weigh more than four pounds, except books published and circulated by order of Congress.

Upon the following mailable matter the postage must be prepaid, at the time of mailing, by stamps, unless otherwise provided in this act:

First. Upon all domestic letters, whether passing through the mails or collected or delivered by postal agents or carriers.

Second. On all transient printed matter.

Third. On all seeds, cuttings, bulbs, roots and scions; all pamphlets, books, book manuscripts, and proof sheets, maps, prints, engravings, blanks, flexible patterns, samples and sample cards, phonographic paper, letter envelopes, postal envelopes, paper, and photographic representations of different types.

Fourth. Upon all other things in the mail not othewise herein provided for.

The maximum standard weight for the single weight of letter postage is one-half ounce avoirdupois.

The rate of postage on all domestic letters transmitted in the mails of the United States, and not exceeding one-half ounce in weight, shall be uniform at three cents; and for each half ounce, or fraction thereof, of addditional weight, there shall be charged an additional rate of three cents, to be in all cases prepaid by postage stamps plainly affixed to such letter.

The rate of postage on all letters not transmitted through the mails of the United States, but delivered through the post-office or its carriers, commonly described as local or drop letters, and not exceeding one half-ounce in weight, shall be uniform at two cents, and an additional rate for each half ounce or fraction thereof, of additional weight, to be in all cases prepaid by postage stamps affixed to the envelope of such letter; but no extra postage or carrier's fee shall hereafter be charged, or collected upon letters delivered by carriers, nor upon letters collected by them for mailing, or for delivery.

All letters directed to any person not found at the office addressed may be forwarded to any other office where he may be found, with additional charge of postage therefor.

The maximum standard weight for the single rate of postage on matter classed as printed matter, and also on that classed as miscellaneous matter, is four ounces avoirdupois, subject to the exception in the next following section provided.

The rate of postage on transient mailable matter, of the second class, and also on all miscellaneous mailable matter of the third class, (except circulars and books,) shall be two cents for each four ounces, or fraction thereof, contained in any one package to one address, and such postage shall in all such cases be fully prepaid by stamps, plainly affixed to the wrapper thereof. Double these rates shall be charged for books. Unsealed circulars, not exceeding three in number, shall pass at the single rate of two cents, and in that proportion for a greater number, adding one rate for three circulars, or a less number thereof, directed to one address. No extra postage shall be charged for a card printed or impressed upon an envelope or wrapper. These rates must in all cases be prepaid by stamps.

Letters.—The law requires postage on all letters (including those to foreign countries when prepaid), excepting those written to the President and Vice President, or members of Congress, or (on official business) to the chiefs of the executive departments of the Government, and the heads of bereaus and chief clerks, and others invested with the franking privilege, to be prepaid by stamps or stamped envelopes, prepayment in money being prohibited.

All drop letters must be prepaid. The rate of postage on drop letters, at offices where free delivery by carrier is established, is two cents per half ounce or fraction of a half ounce: at offices where such free delivery is not established, the rate is one cent.

The single rate of postage on all domestic mail letters throughout the United States is three cents per half ounce, with an additional rate of three cents for each additional half ounce or fraction of a half ounce. The ten cent (Pacific) rate is abolished.

To and from Canada and New Brunswick, ten cents per half ounce, irrespective of distance.

To and from other British North American Provinces, for distance not over 3,000 miles, 10 cents. Over 3,000 miles, 15 cents.

For every additional half ounce, or fraction of a half ounce, an additional rate is charged. Prepayment is option on all letters for the British North American Provinces except Newfoundland, to which prepayment is compulsory.

Newspaper Postage.—Postage on daily papers to subscribers when prepaid quarterly or yearly in advance, either at the mailing office or office of delivery, per quarter (three months) 35 cents; six times per week, per quarter, 30 cents; for tri-weekly, per quarter, 15 cents; for semi-weekly, per cents; for weekly, per quarter, 5 cents.

Weekly newspapers (one copy only) sent by the publisher to actual subscribers within the county wherein printed and published, free.

Any word or communication, whether by printing, writing, marks or signs, upon the cover or wrapper of a newspaper, pamphlet, magazine or other printed matter, other than the name and address of the person to whom it is to be sent, and the date when the subscription expires, subjects the package to letter postage.

Table of Domestic Postage.

Unsealed circulars, over three and not exceeding six	4
Unsealed circulars, over six and not exceeding nine	6
Unsealed circulars, over nine and not exceeding twelve	8

Postmasters must be careful always to collect the postage due on newspapers and printed matter received from foreign countries, when the foreign postage only is prepaid by the senders. For the rates to be collected on such mail matter, Postmasters will consult sections 146, 147, 149, 150, 151, 152, and 153, of the regulations of 1859.

Quarterly Rates of Postage on Newspapers and Periodicals.

Quarterly rates of postage, when paid quarterly or yearly in advance, on newspapers and periodicals issued once a week or more frequently and sent to actual subscribers from a known office of publication.

Religious, educational, and agricultural newspapers of small size, issued less frequently than once a week, may be sent in packages to one address at the rate of one cent for each package not exceeding four ounces in weight, and an additional charge of one cent is made for each additional four ounces or fraction thereof, the postage to be paid quarterly or yearly in advance.

Newsdealers may pay the postage on their packages of newspapers and periodicals as received, at the same rates that actual subscribers thereto, pay quarterly in advance.

Publications issued without disclosing the office of publication, or containing a fictitious statement thereof, must not be forwarded by postmasters unless prepaid at the mailing office at the rates of transient printed matter.
